VEGETABLE CROPS — BILLIE DAVIS, DOVER, FLORIDA (2010)

Billie Davis, a farmer in Dover, Florida has been growing collards, mustard, scallions and black eye peas on his farm for 45 years.

“My young crop has never looked this good and healthy at this stage of the growing season,” Davis said shortly after using a SumaGrow®-containing product for the first time. “The bugs are not chewing on these young, tender plants.”

Mr. Davis used no fertilizer because of the recommended reduction or elimination of fertilizers when using a product containing SumaGrow®. “I have been spending around $2000 for my fertilizer. My {SumaGrow®} cost was under $500. I called and order my {SumaGrow®} and it was delivered within a week. A higher yield at a lower cost with fewer bugs is a win/win/win for my farm. I have already placed my {SumaGrow®} order for my spring crop.”
